

ASGE UPDATE

ASGE Highlights for Digestive Disease Week (DDW) 2023

DDW@2023 is happening from May 6–9, 2023 in Chicago! Attend in-person or join us for virtual sessions. Registration opens in January, 2023. In the meantime, get a sneak peek of what we'll be offering.

- Train the Trainer Workshop

Friday, May 5

The program will raise awareness on why and what is needed to develop a training framework for an effective endoscopic training session and allow you to practice your teaching skills.

- AI in GI Workshop

Friday, May 5

This workshop will help you envision how AI can enhance your clinical practice by providing you with the tools and knowledge needed to effectively incorporate AI into your practice.

- ASGE Presidential Plenary

Saturday, May 6

Please join ASGE President Bret T. Petersen, MD, MASGE, for a comprehensive overview of today's advancements and innovations in gastrointestinal endoscopy.

- ASGE Clinical Symposia Sessions

Saturday, May 6–Tuesday, May 9

Several practical clinical sessions on pertinent topics facing the field will be presented. For a full list of confirmed ASGE clinical sessions, visit ASGE.org/DDWclinical.

- ASGE Annual Postgraduate Course

Sunday, May 7

This annual signature ASGE event brings together experts from across the globe to present evidence-based and outcomes-driven endoscopic management of gastrointestinal and related disorders. Join Vinay Chandrasekhara, MD, FASGE, Jonathan Cohen, MD, FASGE, and Uzma D. Siddiqui, MD, FASGE, as they lead discussions on Clinical Challenges and Real-Time Decision Making in GI Endoscopy.

- ASGE Video Forums

Tuesday, May 9

Featuring the most prestigious, highest-ranking, and cutting-edge endoscopic videos, the highest-scoring video from the peer-reviewed process for each category will be presented a Best-of-the-Best Award in that category.

- World Cup of Endoscopy Session

Tuesday, May 9

You won't want to miss this fun but competitive international competition where different countries vie for top honors for their country. Selection into the World Cup is based on the content of the video.
